

2003 Outdoor Recreation Fair

Join us as we celebrate National Public Lands Day!

Saturday, September 20, 2003

9:00 am - 1:00 pm

South Mountain Environmental Education Center
South Mountain Park • Phoenix, Arizona

- Participate in a trail project to celebrate National Public Lands Day (7am to 10am)
- Get up close and personal with some wild animals from Adobe Mountain Wildlife Rehabilitation Center and other wildlife agencies
- Purchase custom topographical maps made on site
- Learn desert survival techniques and orienteering/map reading skills from park rangers
- Explore Hohokam petroglyphs on a ranger-led hike
- Enjoy the vistas of South Mountain Park on a hay wagon ride
- Meet "Hualapai", a burro adopted through the Bureau of Land Management's Wild Horse and Burro Program
- Listen to the tranquil sounds of the Sonoran Spirits Flutists
- Purchase State Land Department state trust recreation permits
- Visit the WOW display that teaches urban children about the great outdoors while camping
- Visit with some of Arizona's wildland fire fighting heroes and learn more about what they do

presented by

City of Phoenix
PARKS AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT

Participants: National Park Service, USDA Forest Service, US Fish and Wildlife Service, US Bureau of Reclamation, Arizona State Parks, Arizona Game and Fish Department, Arizona State Land Department, Arizona Site Steward Program, Adobe Mountain Wildlife Rehabilitation Center, Arizona Trail Association, Maricopa County State Parks and Recreation Department, Cities of Mesa, Tempe, Scottsdale & Glendale Parks and Recreation Departments, Liberty Wildlife, East Valley Wildlife, KDUC Radio, San Carlos Apache Tribe, Pueblo Grande, Sonoran Spirits Flutists, Ponderosa Stables, REI, Arizona Herpetological Association, Sheriff's K-9 Search and Rescue Posse, Good Samaritan Venomous Poison Control, Civilian Conservation Corps, Desert Botanical Garden, Arizona Mule & Donkey Association, Great Western Trail, authors Christine Maxa & Conrad Storad

For more information: 602-495-5458 • natural.resources.pks@phoenix.gov